NCHA Top Ten

Upsets Involving NorCal Players in 2002

By Rich Dunne and Jim Tamagni

1. Emmett Peixoto over Norm Dunne at Watsonville Singles – Norm claimed hang-over; Emmett claimed the title.
2. Tyler Hamel over Norm Dunne at Milwaukee Pro Stop – The only effect the hang-over had was after the match.
3. Anton Wilson over David Chapman at Milwaukee Pro Stop – Anton's career victory not deflated by Chapman's stomach flu.
4. Joe McDonald/ Mike Dunne , Sr. over Tom Natale/Kevan DelGrande, 60 doubles at Las Vegas nationals – Two cripples prove doughnuts still snack of choice.
5. Gary Pezzi/Emmett Peixoto over Ricardo Diaz/Raul Jasso at San Jose Labor Day Open – Any match Pezzi wins is an upset, especially when he claims he carried his partner.

20th Annual Handball Hall of Fame Doubles

By Bernie Samet

124 players participated in Northern California's showcase doubles tournament. This years' inductees into the Hall of Fame were Larry Aguiar and CheryAnn Mendonca.

In the Open Division, National 35+ champs, Rich and Mike Dunne, ran into a very hot Len DeLaTorre, who teamed with JJ Korman to reach the finals in three games, (21-2!!, 11-21, 11-2). There to greet them was another Dunne, Norman, who teamed with Rich Vasquez. They also needed a tiebreaker to reach the finals as they defeated the Southern California duo of Carlos and Marcos Chavez, 21-19, 20-21, 11-8, in what many of the players on hand considered the "real finals." Perhaps they were right, as Dunne and Vasquez seem to cruise the last two games in the finals by a 21-16, 11-4 margin. (cont'd page 2)

In the B Division, after years of being seeded, not seeded, overlooked, etc., the East Bay duo of Tom Aller and Jim Zwaal finally broke through for the win. This came first at the expense of Paul Podrid and Rick Robledo in the semis, whom Tom and Jim defeated in three games. In the finals they met Jerry Laase and Tom Madigan, who had defeated the San Mateo Elks duo of Dave Balistreiere and Mark Reynolds. The finals figured to be close and it was — 3 games with an 11-7 win for Tom and Jim.

In the A Division, Greg Corvi and Sean Buckley reached the semifinals against Tom McGrath and Greg Clark. Tom and Greg's experience proved to be the difference by a 21-10, 21-18 margin. Tom and Greg's opponents in the finals were Las Vegas' Joe Harris and Randy Rhodes, who had a similar victory in the semis over the South End's Joe Tierney and Travis Hoover. The finals were surprisingly one-sided as McGrath and Clark came away with an "easy" 21-8, 21-6 vidctory.

In the Masters (40+), defending champs Al Sandoval and Lou Barberini were expected to successfully defend their title. A surprisingly tough semis match against Ron Strausbaugh and Mike Linnick (11-7 third game) may have proved their undoing as their opponents in the finals, Jim Tamagni and Kelly Russell, had a relatively easy win in their semi match over Artie Ward and Brian Nelson. The final lacked the usual back wall kills from Al and the defending champs went down, 21-5, 21-14.

In the Golden Masters (50+) Alan Sherrill and Jay Capell were primed to defend their title against some tough opposition as the newly turned 50's team of Pat Bowen and Tom Fitzwater were entered, along with last years finalists, Guy Hoover and Rich Polson. Youth prevailed, barely! Pat and Tom defeated Alan and Jay, 21-20, 21-17. Guy and Rich didn't give it up any easier as Pat and Tom took the tie breaker, 11-7.

In the Super Golden Masters (60+), you had the 2002 Nationl Champs, Joe McDonald and Mike Dunne primed to play against Dennis Moser and Travis Poindexter, who won this year's National Invitational Doubles. Neither team got to the finals easily. Joe and Mike staggered into the finals with an 11-10 victory in the third semifinal game against Tom Ricci and Phillipe Recindo. Dennis and Travis had a slightly easier time against Bob Harris and Kevan Del Grande, 21-16, 21-15. That difference may have helped, as Joe and Mike didn't have "it" in the first game, losing 21-6. Dennis and Travis took the second game as well, but with an expected close outcome of 21-19.

The Diamond (70+) division saw perennial favorites and Hall of Famers Rudy Stadlberger and Bill Heaston seeded 1 & 2. Neither seed was accurate this year, as Rudy and partner Tom McKnight were upset by Don Elwood and Dick Lemmon in three games. Meanwhile, Heaston and John Paulette took their ousting, also in three games, from Al Crosat and Monte Robinson. The finals also proved close with Al and Monte winning by an 11-4 margin in the tie breaker.

This years' inductees into the NorCal Handball Hall of Fame were Larry Aguiar and CherylAnn Mendonca. Larry has won numerous National Singles and Doubles Tournaments in the Masters and Golden Masters. CherylAnn, a past president of the NCHA, has selflessly devoted much time and effort over the years to the both the NCHA and to promoting handball in the Sacramento area.

2002 Jack Tone

by Tom Sove

The 28th version of the Jack Tone Super Golden Master Handball Tournament was held October 13 & 14, 2002 at In-Shape City in Stockton, CA. This year's tournament celebrated two major events: the 70th wedding anniversary of our hosts, Marge and Jack Tone, and the addition of the Filly (women) event. As usual, Kathleen Hammer presented an entertaining Arabian horse show Saturday evening at the ranch, followed by Jerry Hammer presiding over the prime rib BBQ. Our thanks to the usual group of Committeemen, especially the newcomers from Fresno.

There was a big deal in the Colts this year as our only three-time consecutive champion, Jim Story, was defeated for the first time. Harry Scott came to his first Jack Tone and beat Jim in the finals. Seeded third, Harry beat two-time Colt reserve champ Mike Drewry in the semis. Jim met and defeated the always-there Ken Moeller in the other semifinal. Joe Chavez won the Colt Consolation title.

A new champion was also crowned in the Stallions, as Ruben Nunez defeated veteran Frank Caplan. In the semis, Ruben defeated Cy Epstein, while Frank got by Chuck Fishburne. Cy Epstein got into the Stallion Consolation, and took that title.

Sparks were flying in the Mature Stallions as Joe Lenhardt returned to try for a fifth JT title. But Dave Thoreson was intent on repeating his '01 championship run, and proved equal to the task, defeating Joe in the final. Dave got by Al Crosat in the semis, while Joe had a very tough, "spirited" match with Dick Lemmon. Jim Read took the Mature Stallion Consolation title.

Watsonville Singles

By Alan Sherrill

Fifty-seven players showed up for the 2002 annual Watsonville YMCA singles handball tournament. Some of them even thought it was more important to play handball than eat, although that is hard to imagine.

Emmett Peixoto, in training for the Pro Qualifier the following week, beat Marcos Chavez in a tiebreaker in the semifinals and Norm Dunne in two in the finals to win the Open division. These matches made for some entertaining handball.

Mike Linnik cruised in the A division, allowing an average of a little over eight points per game over four rounds. Ed Campbell made it to the finals for the second year in a row. Gary Pezzi knocked off last year's champ, Ray Vega, in the first round. He had two tiebreaker wins before losing to Campbell. Steven Sherrill, playing in the A's for the first time, won two rounds before meeting Linnik.

Cal Berkeley's Alex Mints, moving up from the C's last year, won the B's over David Sanchez from Stockton. Sanchez squeaked by the tournament's oldest contestant, Travis Poindexter, in the semi-finals with an 11-5 tie-breaker victory. Mints beat previous B champ Bob Kass in his semifinal.

Bob's 13-year-old son Sam had the most exciting match of the tournament. Sam lost a nice lead and the first game of the C final, 21-20. Down 18-3 and 20-9 in the second to Noah Levinson from UC Berkeley, but not out, Sam rallied to post a second game win 21-20. The tie-breaker went back and forth with Sam prevailing 11-9 over the steady Noah.

There were 20 entries in the C division. Burns Macdonald, the UC Berkeley coach, supplied several, as did Margie Peixoto from her handball club. There was a drop down D division, which was played on the 3-wall courts. This was won by Smiling Kevin Flynn over Ryan McReynolds in two games.

Thanks to the Peixoto family and Peixoto Farms, Dennis and Lori Osmer, Tony Taylor and A-1 Auto Transport, and all the local players for their continuous supply of gastrointestinal delights. A special thanks goes to Doc "The Vet" Solinas for supplying copious amounts of guacamole.

Santa Rosa Turkey Shoot

Thank you to all the players, staff and volunteers who helped make Santa Rosa's 22nd annual Parkpoint Club Turkey Shoot held November 22-24, 2002, a huge success. Over 100 players from all over California and as far away as Texas came to compete for turkeys, wine, and fun. For the first time ever Parkpoint Club players took first or second place in a majority of the divisions. Everyone was astonished by the abundance of good food (oysters, tri-tip, chicken, and French toast, just to name a few) that was served. Mike Jenner, Bill & Jody Martinez, Debbie Baker, and many, many other racquetball volunteers and Parkpoint staff worked many long hours through the weekend to help make the Turkey Shoot a success. On behalf of all the handball players, thank you all very much!

Bob Glockson made JT history by becoming the first three-time consecutive Mature Diamond champion. He defeated Bob Cue in the final.

We had four women enter the inaugural Filly division, with Toni Aguirre taking the honor of "first Filly Champion". In a round robin format, she was undefeated. Birdie Abdulla came in second.

We are very happy to report that Marv Winchell added even more luster to the Marvin Winchell Memorial Crying Towel by winning this award for the unprecedented fourth time.

Wayne's Way 2003

Wayne's Way was recently posed the interesting question, "why do we have seeding for tournaments?" The query seemed simple enough, but then what appeared to be a rudimentary answer started twisting and turning into a great ball of confusion. This happens a lot here at Wayne's Way and of course we do it so well. Initially, you would most likely say that the two best players would then most certainly meet in the finals and be rewarded for hard work and previous championship efforts. Let's delve into ten new ways to decide who plays whom. Why ten new ways you ask? We didn't believe we could come up with a dozen without getting too stupid or silly, but if it goes well, Wayne's Way may have couple more as a bonus for you dozen-people.

1. First application received by the tournament director is the numero uno seedo, (Wayne's Way staff is multi-lingual) Wayne's Way can envision money flying thru the mail at light speed to the director of event operations. They may send dollars a year in advance to be able to brag to their buddies that they were the number one seed in the big tournament. If you had been the final seed in the draw this would provide no advantage for match longevity. You would just probably lose to any other entrant, but not get blown out as bad as if you had played the top seed.

2. This is the 1 vs. 2, 3 vs. 4, 5 vs. 6 etc. scenario. Big advantages can be spied here. Everyone is usually at the tournament the first day, and would therefore get to see all the best matchups. One playing two would have an overflow capacity crowd and no one would be hungover yet. Let's say number two beats one. Number one would then get to go about his weekend and possibly save his marriage (again) by coming home early from the event.

3. How about the lottery seeding system? Tournament director would simply draw your check number out of the hat and seed accordingly to the first drawn. Pluses are again painfully evident when dealing with average handball entrant, (especially the perennially late check sending primadonnas), no checkie no playie. Number one seed hotshots will probably just xerox a copy of a check and send to numerous tournaments to try and keep options open 'til the last minute.

4. Worst player in the tournament will arrange the draw. He can then stick it to everyone that has pitted him against the number one seed every time. Let revenge reign! Hey wait, we already have this system in place now at many tournaments.

5. The dart throws draw. You can either throw darts at check numbers or photos if handy. By the way, the Wayne's Way staff dartboard has worn out its last Howie Wyrsch and Tom Sove photos, and to please forward additional photos to WW staff.

6. The guy we'd like to not see around for the rest of the weekend draw. This one is simple, no one likes player X, he plays the #1 seed, and preferably on Friday afternoon.

7. The guy we'd like to see around for the rest of the weekend draw. This is a trick seeding question. There aren't any of these people we would like to see that much.

8. This idea for a tournament has been bantered around lately. Matches that we would like see played, like grudge games, dream matchups, or games between two people that have never played against each other but are always saying that they could beat this person. Add a section to the tournament entry form that would allow anyone to request the perfect matchup, and seed this match in the first round.

9. Have the neighbor's wife or 8 year old child do the seedings. No at the tournament would then be responsible for ruining your weekend.

10. Wayne's Way lied. We really didn't have ten or any bonus material. Many will say we didn't even have 9.

Do it Wayne's Way in the New Year of 2003.

NCHA Treasurer's Report

By Roy Bukstein

As the 2002 year comes to a close, the NCHA's financial position remains strong. We have a $7,500 cash balance in our operating account and no outstanding liabilities. During the calendar year 2002 our expenses exceeded our income generating a planned operating loss of approximately $2,000. This was a planned operating loss because we expanded our support of our juniors program and put more resources into our Regional Tournament.

Our cash inflow during 2002 exceeded $13,000. Our primary sources of income continue to be Booster Club contributions, Membership Dues and Tournament Fees collected at our Regional Tournament.

As in prior years our largest expenditures are support of our junior programs (including transportation reimbursements), regional tournament expenses, SCOOP expenses and expenses related to our Hall of Fame Tournament.

Inflows:
Booster Club	$2,500
Membership Dues	$3,585
Regional Tournament Fees	$5,490
Other	$1,868
Total Inflows	$13,443
Outflows:
Junior Programs	$3,268
Regional Tournament Expense	$5,846
SCOOP Expenses	$2,658
Hall of Fame	$1,340
Other	$2,241
Total Outflows	$15,353
Operating Loss	($1,910)

NCHA Top Ten Upsets Involving NorCal Players in 2002

6. Ali Abdulla, Sr. over Alan Sherrill, 50 singles at Las Vegas nationals – # 32 (?) seed over #1 seed says it all.

7. Sean Buckley/Rich Vasquez over Norm Dunne/John Elstead at Lake Berryessa three wall – Buckley's left punishes strutting three-wall national finalist and his lawyer.

8. Rich Dunne/Mike Dunne, Jr. over Norm Dunne/Jim Tamagni at NorCal Regionals – Self proclaimed best player in world can't win regionals.

9. John Bike, Jr./Mark Shelgren over Rich Dunne/Mike Dunne, Jr., 35 doubles at San Diego National Invitational – Old pro/old guy prove Dunne's can't win them all.

10. John Harris/Jim Tamagni win 50 doubles at NorCal Regionals – Tamagni hasn't won anything since playing with Sove, until Sove dumps him.

Eyes on the Juniors

by Jim Peixoto, Junior Commissioner

Northern California will send nine juniors to Des Plaines, Illinois to compete in the 46th Annual USHA National Junior Handball Championships at the Lattof YMCA, December 27 through 30, 2002.

Six of the young handballers are the product of the San Jose YMCA's growing juniors program: Adam Rodriguez (11 and under); Sam Kass (13 and under); Ramiro Leon (15 and under); Luis Diaz (17 and under); Gustavo Diaz (19 and under) and Ricardo Diaz (19 and under). The more seasoned San Jose juniors can be found almost any day of the week playing each other, or Y regulars like Matt Buellomini, Mike Linnik, Jim Story, Ron Strausbaugh, Rich Goosmann, Gene Bernadini, Brian Gillenwater, Bob Kass and Joe Diaz. The younger juniors can often be found working with NCHA Hall of Famer Sol Aber or veteran Manny Nunez, who coach up to a dozen kids every Friday, from 3:00 to 6:00 p.m.

Also competing at the Junior Nationals from Northern California will be Courtney Peixoto and Tina Apolinario from Watsonville (Girls 19 and under) and Jesse Harris from Willits (19 and under).

Support of junior handball is one of the NCHA's primary goals, and all competitors are eligible to receive a travel allowance from the NCHA.

The NCHA wishes all Northern California juniors the best of luck in the 2002 Junior Nationals!
